
Passing the label check preserves observed fidelity; checking still has to be paid for.